DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed 6/21/2006 has been entered. In the amendment claims 1-33 were cancelled and new claims 34-73 were added.

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Component A an insecticide selected from claim 39 and 67;

Component B a specific acrylic binder;

A specific type material selected from textiles or plastics;

A material that is impregnated or coated;

A fixative selected from claim 59.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single specific species for each of component A, component B, materials and fixative agents, to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Currently, the following claim(s) are generic:

Claims 34-63 and 66-73 are generic for Component A;

Claims 34-73 are generic for an acrylic binder;

Claims 34-42, 58-61, 63-65 and 73 are generic for a material that is impregnated or coated;

Claims 34-62, 64-71 and 73 are generic for a type of material;

Claims 34-59, 61-64 and 66-73 and are generic for a fixative.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

As the technical features for the various distinct insecticides, binders, materials, textile, plastic and fixatives linking the members do not constitute a special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2, particularly since each of the species does not share a substantially common structural feature, the requirement for unity of invention is not fulfilled. The special technical feature of each species is the particular relevant identifying characteristics of that species, such as the particular composition and chemical make up of the insecticides, binders, fixatives and materials. These features being unique to each species and not shared by any other cannot be a unifying feature. The species therefore lack unity of invention a priori.

Art Unit: 1617

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention or species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions have unity of invention (37 CFR 1.475(a)), applicant must provide reasons in support thereof. Applicant may submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. Where such evidence or admission is provided by applicant, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
